

Alarm Clock

Love this series! New York-based artist Douglas Goldberg covers everyday objects beneath drape-like coverings sculpted from stone. Each of the concealed items, ranging from night-lights to a pill bottle, symbolize one of Goldberg's personal fears. See more images from "Shroud" below or on display at Uterior Gallery until February 26th.

Rotisserie Forks (Hell)

Canary

Picture Hanging Screws

